You can make a variety of interesting pictures using your coloured wooden shapes.

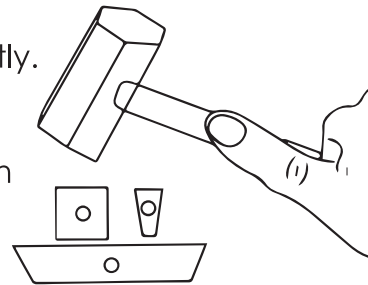

Making Pictures

1. When you have decided on a picture that you would like to make, take the corkboard, select the shapes required and lay them on the board.

2. Carefully place a tack into the existing hole, press gently.

3. Take the hammer and carefully tap the tack down into the hole.

4. Repeat this until all of the shapes have been used.

Tip: There are some ideas illustrated on the reverse, but also make up some of your own.

When you wish to make a new picture, lift the shapes until they are released from the board, taking care not to stick the point of the tack into your finger.
